THE BRIDGE

The following is from the best selling book, Dianetics, The Modern Science of Mental Health, by L. Ron Hubbard, first published in 1950.

“For God’s sake, get busy and build a better bridge.”

L. Ron Hubbard

All sciences begin with the discovery of basic axioms. They progress as new data is discovered and as the scope of the science is widened. Various tools and techniques rise up continually, improved and re-improved.

The basic axioms, the initial discoveries of Dianetics are such solid scientific truths that they will be altered but little. The data discovered by those axioms is already large and daily expanding.

When the basic axioms and computations were finished it was impossible to release them for there were none to whom such research could be released for application. Thus the work had to be carried out to its furthest extent of not only experimentation but the development and proof of the techniques of application.

One might here use an analogy of bridge engineering. Let us suppose that two plateaus exist, one higher than the other, with a canyon between them. An engineer sees that if the canyon could be crossed by traffic, the hitherto unused higher plateau, being much more fertile and pleasant, would become the scene of a new culture. He sets himself the task of building a bridge.

It has been supposed that no bridge could be built across the canyon and indeed, since those on the lower plateau could not see the higher level, the existence of the higher plateau itself was denied.

The engineer, by evolving new principles of bridge building and discovering new significance in his materials, manages to throw a bridge across the canyon. He himself crosses and he inspects the plateau carefully; others cross over his bridge and examine the new terrain with delight. Still more and more across the bridge.

The bridge is solid and, if not wide, can yet safely be negotiated. It has not been built for heavy fast traffic. But it contains the basic principles and axioms by which the canyon can be spanned again and again. Many people begin to approach the canyon and look up.

What sort of an opinion would you have of the society on the lower plateau if they but moaned and wept and argued and gave no hand at all in the matter of widening the bridge or making new bridges?

For God’s sake, get busy and build a better bridge!

The Classification, Gradation and Awareness Chart

by L. Ron Hubbard

Scientology is a way. It is the road out, leading away from aberration. It increases a person’s ability and it increases his general performance and existence to a very marked and fantastic degree.

The road out has certain little milestones that you have to pass to get out, and we call these, for want of a better definition, “grades”.

Let me tell you something about this Classification Gradation and Awareness Chart. How did I find this chart? Why is this chart so dead on? It’s quite a trick. It’s made up only of those things which you can’t audit in the face of. That is the origin of the chart, and that is the real reason I found the grades.

PROCESSING

There are certain things which, if not heeded, prevent all progress in auditing, so therefore they must be the keys to aberration. The things that you cannot audit in the presence of, without handling, are the grades on that gradation chart.

So, of course, if they are the things which absolutely stop any preclear’s progress, then they must be, themselves, things which desperately require releasing.

Accompanying each Release Grade, is the experience of over-coming that particular barrier, and that experience stands one in good stead because it improves one’s ability to confront.

The making of a Release is very, very worth while, because it’s on a plotted line and the person has raised his confront. Being released in a proper sequence, he’s getting accustomed to things that have been ruining his life.

They would ruin anybody’s life, because let me assure you, anything that will stop auditing would ruin somebody’s life, because auditing is pretty hard to stop.

Auditing is done in a highly standard way. It is a very narrow, narrow track. It is highly beneficial and it has very definite goals, aims and gains. It will take you, grade by grade, to Clear.

TRAINING

In Scientology, we are not dedicated to theory. We are dedicated to what works.

We are very rich in having a technology which makes grade releases with thoroughness.

Moving up through the levels of training, in Academies of Organizations at Saint Hill and the Advanced Organization, enables the student auditor to become accustomed to this technology little by little, each time gaining greater reality on what he is doing. Each of the graded training courses is organized and run to raise the training and ability level of the students on that course.

Study, drills and familiarity, at each level of training, produce skilled auditors who know the technology for getting results and get them.

The Class I Auditor knows the technology to audit his preclears to Grade I Release. The Class II Auditor audits to Grade II Release and so on up through the levels.

Now remember one thing. You, a being, are also part of the line-up. Your own beingness, added to the technology, and moving on through, achieves the results. I count on that and count on your co-operation, as a being, in pushing through, on a standard line, straight on to Clear for everybody.

THE BRIDGE

This is the famous bridge mentioned at the end of Dianetics the Modern Science of Mental Health.

It is now complete and is functioning.

The bridge is not only in, it is functioning every hour right now. Book early. The traffic is heavy already. And auditors are the scarest and most valued beings on this planet.

AUDITOR - a person trained and qualified in applying Scinetology or Dianetics procedures to others for their betterment.

BANK - A colloquial name for the Reactive Mind. (This is what the procedures of Scientology are devoted to disposing of, for it is only a burden to an individual and he is much better off without it. A Clear has no bank.)

BRIDGE TO TOTAL FREEDOM - the technology that takes one from the confusion of humanoid existence to higher levels of awareness, certainty and cause over life.

CLASS - CLASSIFICATION - a gradient classification system for auditor levels. Levels so far released are numbered from O to IX.

CLEAR - a person who can be at cause knowingly and at will over mental matter, energy, space and time as regards the First Dynamic (survival for self). GRADATION CHART - is a map of expansion of life, showing at each level the realization of a greater potential.

GRADE - an award made to a preclear in the form of a certificate for having attained one of the eight states of Release or the state of Clear.

The Awareness Levels

by L. Ron Hubbard

Some time ago I found out that the common denominator of behaviour was degree of awareness.

It is degree of awareness that is the thing common to all life. There is no level called Awareness. It's degrees of awareness. And the difference between person A and person B, regardless of other phenomena, is their degree of awareness. A is not as aware as B - or he's aware of different things.

Man, as he advances up the line, goes up through certain levels. There are certain things of which he becomes aware as he improves in life. If one or two or three of those are skipped, he can't become aware of the higher ones.

Looking at the broad panorama of the human race, one is apparently on a gradient scale, (a scale arranged in a series of gradual levels). It is a scale of awareness and, therefore, if you find a person any place on that scale of awareness, then the next action which you have to do, in order to help the person, is to make him aware of the next level above that.

We know exactly, now, what various strata of the public will respond to. They'll respond to such things as Suffering. They will respond to other things. At the level of Worsening, an individual would become aware of the fact that worsening could occur. All you'd have to talk to him about would be worsening. Hope is very high scale.

If a person is at band A, then he would improve if he could become aware of band B, and improve again if he could become aware of band C. When a person gets up to the point where he can suffer, that's very high toned! A lot of institutional cases are lying around complaining mainly about the fact that they can't feel anything. They must be just below the level of Suffering or they wouldn't be aware of the fact that they're not suffering.

Improving awareness is always a matter of an increasing perimeter. It means an expanding circle, with the person imagined to be at the center of the circle. A psychotic person, quite ordinarily, is unaware of anything beyond the reach of his fist. Beyond that point, delusion sets in. With increasing awareness, the person is more and more aware, inside a bigger and bigger circle or sphere.

The other thing we get is that you can have action without awareness.

Of course, we've had that around for years. We've said, "social conduct" or "social machinery", and that sort of thing. It sounds pretty wild, but you could have a person who dressed, ate and went to the office every day without knowing anything about it. He's doing it all the time, but he's never noticed it. He's doing a repetitive action, but he's never considered it a repetitive action. In fact, he's never noticed that he was doing it. You could take many a grocer's clerk and find out that it would be a revelation for him, that there is a co-ordination between a customer's order and filling it. He does it every day, but he's never been aware of this. Somebody could come in with a broken leg and complain about his headache. He's not aware that he's got a broken leg.

What the individual is aware of and what the individual is doing are not the same thing, ever. That was why man couldn't make any forward progress in the human mind in spite of fifty thousand years of headaches.

The observation of the conduct of a person will not diagnose the person. You have to know about the scale of awareness. Observation of conduct, or what the person is doing, will not lead to a solution of the situation.

It's quite remarkable when you look at it, because it's one of Man's most fixed ideas that all you have to do is observe conduct and you'll know all about it. But he just keeps falling on his head with that conclusion. All the mental healing sciences, so-called, over the years, were based on observation of conduct. The doctor was supposed to observe the patient's conduct and then diagnose it and then cure it accordingly. But usually they just observed the conduct and labelled it and then, of course, they couldn't do anything about it. By observing conduct you cannot establish an accurate diagnosis, and if you uniformly diagnose inaccurately, then you can't have any sort of remedy to apply to the situation. If you did have the right remedy but did all your diagnosis by conduct, you would wind up never applying the right remedy to the person.

The moment you grasp this one principle about being a homo sapien, you get this as a stable datum: don't diagnose by conduct ever. Don't draw any conclusion from conduct. Skip that, because it's going to be a blind alley. What the person is doing is not the same as what the person is aware of.

If you see some conduct that you didn't expect, then all you know at that moment, is that you don't know about something. But that is, itself, something to know. You will then know more than if you jump in there with a bunch of pretended knowingness and say, with great pomposity, "He's a Gymnastico Psichiatrico Potto—and that's what's wrong with the case." Giving the person some beautiful label because he has some conduct or the other is bad science. It doesn't lead to a solution.

When something isn't working, you haven't got the answer. That's all science had to find, in order to become science. But if you start substituting an authoritative utterance for a resolution of the situation, you can go mad. That's where the mental sciences were parked when we came along. They were right there.

When you see conduct that is not understood by you, don't give it a label. Know that you don't know something. Be humble enough to admit when you don't know something. Otherwise you are being a fool, because the situation isn't going to resolve.

That situation will not resolve because the only thing that keeps the situation from resolving is the unknowingness or unawareness.

The scale of sanity is awareness, all the way up, and the scale of aberration, as you go down, is degree of increasing unawareness. So the more aberrated a person is, the more unaware both that person and you would be regarding what's going on.

When you see someone behaving oddly, really the only thing you know is that there's something there that you don't know. There is an area where he is probably unaware that he is unaware. He'll cover that up with a pretended awareness which doesn't exist and he'll get various delusive things. This becomes a very fascinating study and you have to keep yourself very steady on this. But there is something you can know about it.

About anything that you confront, there is something you can know. You can know that you don't know, and that is the first thing you should know about it. So now you will take action to find out. Just in the process of finding out, the whole thing will clarify.

The Awareness Levels

This study of awareness, of what somebody can be aware of, is quite a subject. To begin the subject at all, you have to know that there is something in the universe that you don't know. That, for a person way down on the scale, is the most dangerous utterance he could make. He compensates for his unawareness by automatic mechanisms of pretence. He wouldn't have the courage to say, "Well, I don't know anything about that." Yet he can't resolve the situation unless he does.

The moment he says, "I've got an area where I don't know," he can make a tremendous amount of progress. He can start taking a look at it and, all of a sudden, he'll find something in that area quite surprising and quite necessary for him to locate.

Becoming Clear is a process of becoming more and more aware. You come up to a point where you also become aware of where you are unaware, and you see that rather quickly. When you notice one of these areas, you either decide that you should find out or that it doesn't make any difference. If it's some area where you should find out, you can pull on it very quickly and when you pull that situation into view, it quite normally collapses all by itself.

Coming up through the levels of awareness, a great deal of revelation does occur. It's not always palatable, not always nice to find out these things, but the clearer you get, the shorter time you'll find it distasteful and the more familiar you can be with it.

As an individual comes up the Awareness Scale, he becomes saner and saner and brighter and brighter. He becomes more aware and his old abilities come back. He will, all of a sudden, be himself.

L. Ron Hubbard

Brenda and Charles Reeder have just completed Power & Power Plus (Grade V & VA) at ASHO. Power Processing comes after Grade IV of the Gradation Chart.

* The Briefing Course is a well supervised course which really trains up Auditors who can and will apply what they know. ASHO's professional course supervisors make it easy for students to get through this course.

On the Briefing Course one learns to audit the full "Expanded Grades" plus the student gets his own Expanded Grade auditing free from other students. This makes the Briefing Course a very economical way to get lots of auditing while getting trained to audit others at the same time.

A Briefing Course student gets a unique 50% professional discount on NEW POWER PROCESSING ( saving $600.00 ). Plus he gets the professional version of the "Solo Audit Course" FREE ( a savings of $775.00 ) and thus learns to audit himself to Grade VI Release in final preparation for Clear.

A graduate from the Briefing Course attains a Class VI Auditor's certificate and is in high demand around the world at every Scientology Organization (including Hubbard Colleges of Scientology and Advanced Organizations) and Missions.

The Briefing Course student is a highly competent expert in his field and has no trouble making a good living by auditing. He enjoys a position of high respect amongst all Scientologists by virtue of his Saint Hill training.

There are NO prerequisites for the Saint Hill Special Briefing Course, although Academy Level training at local Scientology Organizations (as listed on the back of this publication) is encouraged whenever possible.

The tuition fee for the Briefing Course is $775.00 Plus you pay $1000.00 additional if you haven't taken full Academy training. Payments for partial Academy training are credited towards this additional $1000.00.

A special $125.00 scholarship exists for Class IV Auditors who've completed this Academy training making their full tuition fee only $650.00.

A 5% discount is given for payment in advance.

At the end of the Bridge - the State of O.T. by L. Ron Hubbard

Operating thetan is the topmost state to be reached in this universe.

"Operating" simply means to operate, manipulate or handle. For example, one operates an E-meter, a car, a ship, etc. It also means that one, oneself, can operate.

The word "Thetan" simply means, in Scientology, the being or life unit who inhabits and runs the body.

Of course, to that degree, anybody who can move is really operating as a thetan. But what we actually mean by "Operating Thetan" is somebody who can not only operate bodies but who can operate without the body.

When you put somebody back to the level of Operating Thetan, you are putting somebody back who is different than any being who has ever been on the track. There's never been an "OT" with experience.

Never before in the history of the universe has there been anything but a released OT, a being who is temporarily exterior and feels great and powerful but whose bank, sooner or later within minutes or centuries, catches up with him and he falls on his head.

Our definition of an Operating Thetan is that of a Clear Operating Thetan. This is a proofed-up being who no longer has a bank or an impulse to make one and who has experience. This is a completely stable state.

BE CLEAR

The celebrated State of Clear is found on the Gradation Chart above the Grades of Release O - VI.

The ability gained at Clear is described as "ability to be at cause over mental matter, energy, space and time on the first dynamic (survival for self)".

One also "stops being non - survival on the first dynamic" upon the attainment of Clear.

You will be free and able to pursue your own goals in Life.

Sought by millions of people for thousands of years, the stable state of Clear is now available through Scientology to anyone who sincerely writes to attain it.

The only prerequisites are Scientology processing to Grade VI Release.

Price: $800.00. Advance payment gives 5% discount price of $760.00.
